

www.geobunga.com

4404 Malaai St, Honolulu, Hawaii 96818
P. 808.422.4567 F. 888.990.6363

Calendar Advisory

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Thursday, March 26, 2015

Geobunga Hosts Free Water Plant Workshops April 4 and 11

Learn how to easily grow water lilies, lotus and marginal plants

WHAT:

Geobunga is pleased to offer its second 2015 Gardening Workshops Series "Water Lilies, Lotus and Marginals."

WHEN/WHERE:

- April 4, 9-10am at Geobunga Windward - 41-732 Kakaina St. Waimanalo, HI 96795
- April 11, 9-10am at Geobunga Salt Lake - 4404 Malaai St. Honolulu, HI 96818 (across from Target)

REGISTER:

Space is limited to 50 seats! Register at geobunga.com/workshops

DETAILS:

The public is invited to learn simple art of growing water lilies, lotus and marginal plants. Water plants are durable and easy to maintain, and add tranquility and beauty to any outdoor space around the home.

"Water lilies are dependable, low-maintenance plants that love sunshine," says Geobunga owner Andrew Dedrick. "They're perfect plants for beginning gardeners."

Several varieties of locally-grown water plants will be available for sale following each workshop.

Geobunga makes it fun, easy and affordable to create beautiful outdoor spaces. Offering unique garden elements from around the world, Geobunga specializes in ceramic pots, stone pavers and benches, decorative rocks and pebbles, fountains, bamboo accents and a large variety of plants. Each visit to Geobunga brings something new to discover, along with the best prices, selection and service in the state. Geobunga offers two convenient locations in Salt Lake and Waimanalo.

Visit www.geobunga.com

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC**

####

MEDIA CONTACTS:

Charles Bohannon, Media Relations; cell: (808) 990-3421, charles@wordful.com