

www.geobunga.com

4404 Malaai St, Honolulu, Hawaii 96818
P. 808.422.4567 F. 888.990.6363

Calendar Advisory

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Wednesday, June 17, 2015

Geobunga Hosts Free Pavers and Pathways Workshops July 11 and 18

Learn the simple and beautiful art of natural stone accenting.

WHAT:

Geobunga is pleased to offer a new Summer 2015 Gardening Workshops Series "Pavers and Pathways."

WHEN/WHERE:

- July 11, 9-10am at Geobunga Windward - 41-732 Kakaina St. Waimanalo, HI 96795
- July 18, 9-10am at Geobunga Salt Lake - 4404 Malaai St. Honolulu, HI 96818 (across from Target)

REGISTER:

Space is limited to 50 seats! Register at geobunga.com/workshops

DETAILS:

The public is invited to learn the art of natural stone accenting using beach pebbles, random-shaped pavers and cut dimensional pavers.

"Stone adds great natural beauty and balance to any outdoor space," says Geobunga owner Andrew Dedrick. "It's sleek, durable and easy to work with."

Participants will learn how to easily create walkways and pathways, as well as smooth concrete-like lanais using interlocking pavers.

Geobunga makes it fun, easy and affordable to create beautiful outdoor spaces. Offering unique garden elements from around the world, Geobunga specializes in ceramic pots, stone pavers and benches, decorative rocks and pebbles, fountains, bamboo accents and a large variety of plants. Each visit to Geobunga brings something new to discover, along with the best prices, selection and service in the state. Geobunga offers two convenient locations in Salt Lake and Waimanalo.

Visit www.geobunga.com

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC**

####

MEDIA CONTACTS:

Charles Bohannon, Media Relations; cell: (808) 990-3421, charles@wordful.com